Headline:
Dry with sunny spells. Warm days but chilly by night.

Today:
A bright start for many on Friday, though cloudier in the north. Cloud will soon break away to leave a dry day with plenty of sunny spells. Feeling warm, but cooler than previous days. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry this evening with patchy cloud and clear spells. Skies will clear overnight with light winds allowing for the odd fog patch to develop. A chilly night. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Another fine and dry day with plenty of sunny spells. The odd light shower is possible in the east later. Feeling warm by day, though chilly in places overnight. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Dry on Sunday with patchy fair-weather cloud and sunny intervals. A mixture of sunny spells and scattered showers on Monday and Tuesday. Staying on the warm side.
